To EPA, re: Draft Bay TMDL

We are farmers in the Chesapeake Bay watershed. We feel that we are good stewards of the land & environment. Over the last 20 some years we have taken steps to cut pollution and improve environment. We feel that some of the new proposals will be extremely costly and will put us out of business. Please reconsider these proposals. We welcome you to come visit our farm.

Thanks for your consideration.

Instead of forcing states to regulate their way out of "backsteps" we urge EPA to allow it to implement its own plans for achieving clean water goals without costly regulations.
